To the Class of 1968

We hope that you have profited by your four years of study at Wakefield High School. Your teachers have tried to prepare you for what you will face after graduation. Whether your plans call for further education, immediate employment, the Armed Services, or marriage, what you have learned at Wakefield High School will help you.

Remember that your education should not stop here. As the world and its problems grow more complex, more education is needed to understand them. Education is a continuing process. Your high school graduation should be a beginning not an end.

Congratulations and best wishes for future success.

He will never forget Modern History with Mr. Morse and the exciting Melrose-Wakefield football games. His future ambition is to go into the field of hotel management.

PAUL WILDER

"Wildman" (who really isn't like that at all) enjoys "doin' nothing" and just driving around with the kids. Paul is employed by American Mutual and hopes to attend college after graduation. We're sure Paul's friendly personality will take him far.

CATHERINE WILLIAMS

Pert Cathy, who enjoys Bookkeeping with Mrs. Cronin, is peeved by conceited boys. She enjoys having fun with "the kids" and advises underclassmen to have fun in high school. Her favorite activity is Leaders Club. Cathy plans to attend hairdressing school after graduation.

SARA WILLIAMSON

Sara, a member of the Activities Staff of the Oracle, Inter Nos, FTA, band, EYC, and business manager of the Lookout, is also an enthusiastic horseback rider and skier. Her favorite pastime is watching people, which explains her suppressed desire to hike around the world. In the future, Sara plans to be a high school teacher.

REID WILLIS

Reid, our AFS summer exchange student to Germany, is a member of AFS Club, Madrigals, Chorale, the Oracle staff, and National Honor Society. Reid's fondest memories are of the Thanksgiving pep rallies and Mr. Blanchard's U. S. History class. A sports fan, Reid plays field hockey and basketball and also enjoys swimming and sailing. A career in social welfare awaits Reid—a girl that WHS will really miss.

JAYE WINKLER

An active member of the senior class, Jaye participates in the Pep Club, Inter Nos, AFS Club, and the Class Color and Motto Committee. A sports enthusiast, Jaye is a member of the field hockey team and enjoys horseback riding, skiing, and sailing. College figures in her future and what we want to know, Jaye, is, "Why don't you like tourists?"

RICHARD WOOD

Cheerful "Woody," whose fondest memory is of the Tech Tourney, enjoys softball and gymnastics. General Math with Mrs. Cincotti and "just hangin' around" are this senior's favorites. A part-time worker at Crescent Sub Shop, Rich plans to enter B. C. (Would you believe boot camp?) after graduation.

JEFFREY WORKMAN

A quietly busy senior, Jeff is a member of Chorale, Madrigal Singers, Thespians and the Oracle Staff. His favorite class is Chorale with Miss Nadon, and his fondest memories include the Brookline Concert with Chorale and "The Crucible." With Jeff's outstanding ability, we're sure he will write the greatest musicals in the very near future.

JANET WRAY

Jan, a member of Pep Club, Prep Club, and Inter Nos, will always remember the Tech Tourneys and the Junior Prom. Math with Mr. Duff was one of her favorite classes. During the summer, she enjoyed working at Pleasure Island, and she hopes to become either a teacher or an airline stewardess in the future.

ERNEST YAMARTINO

Ernie, an active member of Madrigals, the Senior Play, and President of the National Honor Society, will always remember the excitement before the Junior Prom and Chemistry with Mr. Murphy. He enjoys skiing, swimming, football, basketball, and bowling. Because Ernie's pet peeve is slow, dull classes, he feels that ability grouping would greatly improve academic life at WHS. Ernie plans a career in science and math.

When i was in sixth grade
a man said:

FOOTBALL

The 1967 football season started off slowly with a young and growing team. Wakefield lost three of its first four games. However, the team played a much-improved second half of the season. Led by co-captains Roberto and Coyne, the WHS Warriors came back to upset Stoneham, 15-14. Although hindered by injuries, the Warriors upset Winchester's chances for the league title with a final five-down goal line stand. This triumph was offset by a close defeat at Melrose on Thanksgiving Day due to bad playing conditions.

SOCCER

In only the second year of existence, the WHS soccer team compiled an overall record of 7-3-3 and a league record of 4-3-3. Led by co-captains Dennis MacPherson and Paul Rutter and coached by Dick Kelly, the Warriors faced tough league competition in Lexington, Lynnfield, Belmont, Concord, and Winchester. The Warriors finished in second place behind Lexington. Leading scorer on the team was Paul Rutter with eight goals and four assists and second leading scorer was Jim Carisella with eight goals and one assist.

CROSS COUNTRY

This year's cross-country team has again outdone itself with an outstanding record. Led by co-captains Steve Whicher and Dan Beasley, the team won its 32nd consecutive dual meet victory.

Other seniors who played an important role were Chris Dwyer, Neil McLaughlin, Gordan Duncan, Robert Walsh, and Pete Schmidt.

Strong support came from underclassmen Joe Heggarty, Larry Roberts, Don Day, Kevin Beasley, Brian Beasley, and Robert Stevens.

The 1967 girl's field hockey team enjoyed the most successful season in WHS history. Co-captains Judy Henshaw and Brenda Cole led this team to a 9-2-1 record under the coaching of three-year veteran Brenda Di-Panfilio and new J.V. coach Jane Randolph.

The hard-swinging team suffered only one defeat, losing to Stoneham by a last-second score. A unified team, the players shared equal glory and responsibility, with special credit due to high scorer, Paula Lenner, goalie Brenda Cole for her many saves, and Leslie Peabody for her outstanding stick handling.

The Warriors, led by co-captains Randy Brown and Paul Rutter, finished the season with a respectable winning record. A heartbreaking overtime loss to league champ Stoneham and a few other last-second defeats marred the strong efforts of our hoopsters. The highlight of the season was their revenge victory over arch rival Melrose. Seniors Randy Brown, Paul Rutter, and Bob McCormack provided the power to defeat Melrose in the final minutes of play. Underclassmen Dick Canty, Fred Marshall, and Larry Roberts combined to fill the gap left by the season-long injury of senior Ken Letzring.

The girls' basketball team, under the coaching of Miss Brenda DiPanfilo, compiled the best record ever in the history of W.H.S. This record of six wins, three losses, was highlighted by the last-minute rally which the girls made to defeat the tough competitors from Malden High.

A hard-working, unified group, the team was made up mainly of seniors—Terri LaSpina, Leslie Peabody, Brenda Cole, Nancy Comeford, Evelyn Chitty, Michele Lessa, Margaret Chase, Linda Moores, and Linda Barczak. Although their outstanding performance was due to steady teamwork, special credit should go to the offensive players, co-captains Terri LaSpina and Leslie Peabody, for their high scoring, and Michele Lessa, for her hustling. The successful defensive unit was led by Margaret Chase, an excellent blocker, and Brenda Cole, who got the most rebounds.

INDOOR TRACK

Despite the fact that the Warrior indoor track team was unable to regain its Class B crown, this past season has been outstanding. Lacking the depth it has had in past years, the team was still able to win the Middlesex League Title. The boys on this track team will be remembered for their clutch performances all year long, particularly against a star-studded Melrose team. Strong underclassmen who played important roles this season were Paul Egan, Brian Beasley, Kevin Beasley, Charles Bullfinch, and Bob Stevens. Senior standouts were: Co-Captains Ken Doherty and Larry Brown, Dan Beasley, Bob MacKenna, Bob Hadley, Alex Struzziero, Steve Whicher, Dave Troughton, Peter Schmidt, and John Raffael.

The 1967-1968 W.H.S. Hockey team has turned what was termed a building year into a very productive season. The team, built around a strong nucleus of seniors, had excellent chances of getting into the state tournament. Seniors Bob Brodbine and Charles Farrell were in the League's top ten for scoring, while Dennis Bisso and Joe Melton have done an excellent job protecting veteran goalies Jimmy Brown and Paul Koulouris. With the help of some outstanding underclassmen, the Warriors have had a successful season.

This year's gymnastic team had the best season in its history. Under the direction of first year coach Robert Bisacre, the team finished its season with a seven and two record, giving it a second place in the league standing.

Not only was the year successful but also memorable. The one memory that will always remain with the team is that of the Winchester meet, at which Wakefield was victorious for the first time.

Seniors on the team were co-captains Mike Kelly and Barry Moore, Jim Carisella, Bob Cunningham, and Kevin Danell.

In its first year of varsity competition, the wrestling team faced a rugged schedule and gained valuable experience for the future. First year coach Kenneth Thompson kept only two seniors on the squad, Captain Bill Herland and Gordon Duncan. Herland was the most outstanding wrestler on the team, which looks forward to next year with returning lettermen including Donald Valentine, Garry Moore, Steven Garrett, and Frank Succa.

TENNIS

With the return of seniors Doug Hylan, Richard Monroe, and Paul Rutter, the tennis team had one of its strongest seasons.

BASEBALL

After a mediocre season last year, Wakefield's baseball outlook was bright with a returning nucleus of Paul Koulouris, Dennis Bisso, and Randy Brown. Other seniors with varsity experience included Pete Mathison, Tom Dolan, Joe Melton, and Charlie Farrell. Under the direction of Coach Callagy, these boys and hopeful underclassmen had a successful season.

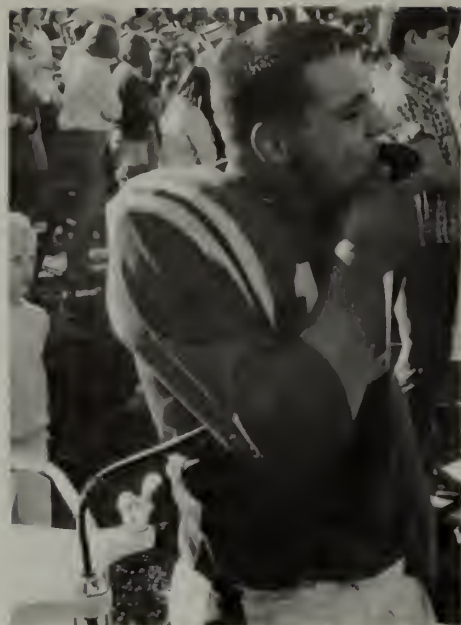

WHS continued its winning ways this season as defending Middlesex and class B state champs. With a large number of returning seniors who made such a great contribution to last year's team, WHS remains one of the strongest teams in the state.

OUTDOOR TRACK

SPORTS CANDIDS

Along with the importance of study and the welcome relief of outside activities, a prominent part of school life revolves around sports. The athlete gives all for school and self—sweat, aches, and fatigue, relieved by the humorous moments that lighten the ever-present tension, the nervousness before the contest, the seriousness of actual competition, the agony of defeat, the thrill of victory, and the satisfaction of knowing you did your best.

*Now we must say good-bye again.
We look back and see the GOOD things.
We don't wish to interrupt the pseudo-security
we pretended we had.
But we never allowed ourselves to live
by one idea or one doctrine or one opinion
long enough to become stable
and stagnant.*

*We've been leaving ever since we came.
So, close the binding door;
if you must look back,
remember these moments,
then go ahead and begin the process of leaving again.*

FRESHMEN

The first day and you are sitting in your home room in your brand new penny loafers trying to figure out F block . . . You don't quite dare walk through the cafeteria by yourself before school so you walk those extra steps to the Atwell door . . . You prefer hiding in the Atwell cafeteria, but when you do go through the hot lunch line and forget a fork, you would rather eat with your fingers than walk across the room again . . . The Friday before the Melrose game you actually wear red and white, and you go to every Pep Club meeting without fail . . . You feel your smallness, but somehow as the days pass, you know that your own face belongs there with the rest.

Bobby Cox, President

Mary Hubbard, Secretary

SOPHOMORES

Mike Murphy, Treasurer

Ellen Harrison, Vice-President

You are a sincere believer in this moment, but you have changed since the seventh grade when the ultimate was walking to MacDonald's for a hamburger . . . Messages of responsibility do not impress you, but you know that they are there, hidden beneath, waiting . . . Somehow the whole year is the epitome of in-between.

Larry Roberts, President

Kathy Spencer, Treasurer

JUNIORS

Nancy Gould, Vice-President

Margaret Myers, Secretary

One day your English teacher calls on you and you don't know where you are because you're reading Alice in Wonderland . . . Once or twice or lots of times an idea hits you, and you begin to find something exciting beyond the routine . . . And then you know that there is more discovery in a solitary shore than in seventeen Warriner's.

FRESHMAN YEAR

On September 9, 1964, we nervously entered the halls of Wakefield High School where we were to find a great deal of hard work and—hopefully—some enjoyment. After becoming acquainted with the confusing block system and the many extra-curricular activities which the school offered, we began the first year of our high school career.

Just as things were beginning to settle down, football season rolled around and began receiving as much attention as the books. The freshman football team, with co-captains Jon Black and Peter Mathison, had a 2-4 record—many of these being close games. The varsity squad, under our new coach Wilbur “Whip” Halliday, and a 5-2-2 record highlighted by a 27-18 romp over arch-rival Melrose at Thanksgiving. Also in the fall, the cross country team under rookie coach and marathoner, John Di-Commandrea, had an excellent season running to a 7-1 league record and the Middlesex League Championship.

With the advent of snow came more championships and honors for Wakefield High School teams. The freshman hockey team beat Melrose twice, 4-2 and 3-2, to climax their 8-0 league championship record. Under another new coach, James Duff, the indoor track team paced WHS to another Middlesex League Championship.

Although we were only freshmen, we helped to voice the school spirit by backing the basketball team under coach Frank Charbonneau. With the aid of the hot hands of John Sage and John Qualters, the varsity Warriors won first, the league championship, then the Class “B” Championship in the Tech Tourney at Boston Garden.

When the snow cleared and spring finally arrived, the baseball teams began showing their prowess. The freshman team, captained by Paul Koulouris, chalked up a 7-2-1 record—Coach Favorat’s best year. The varsity team, coached by William Calagy, placed second as did the outdoor track team.

When we were not at the athletic events, we were trying our hands at the school’s social events. Besides the numerous can-tees, we could be seen at the “Cheerleaders’ Charge”, the Majorettes’ “Redskin Rumble”, and the Student Council’s “Arctic Excitement”.

We had much to be proud of at Wakefield High School in the field of the performing arts. The Winter and Spring Concerts of the Band, Orchestra, and Choruses were well received by large audiences. Many talented students were selected to participate in the Northeast District and All-State Choruses. Under the baton of Mr. McKinley, the Madrigal Singers received an invitation to participate in the All-Eastern Division of the Musical Education National Conference held in Buffalo, New York. In dramatics, Mrs. Bach’s Thespians excellently portrayed the trials of Joan of Arc in The Lark.

Scholastically, Wakefield High School students were showing great achievement. We had two National Merit Finalists as well as eleven Letters of Commendation awarded to qualified students. Many students demonstrated their scientific ingenuity at the Annual Science Fair.

Wakefield High School was honored with the presence of Machiko Sakurai, the American Field Service representative from Japan. In the summer of our freshman year, Connie Anderson, a junior, went to England through the AFS program.

As the year began to draw to a close, the bulletin boards in halls, lobbies, and classrooms were covered with campaign posters for the coming class elections. After wild demonstrations and promising speeches, the elections were held. Dennis MacPherson, President; Bonnie Ramsdell, Vice-President; Barbara Giuffre, Secretary; and Stephen Merrill, Treasurer, were chosen to lead us through the coming academic year.

Remembering the significance of what we had learned, our accomplishments, and the satisfaction in knowing that we had made a good start, we confidently looked forward to our sophomore year.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

In September, 1965, we entered Wakefield High School as Sophomores. Although we had not reached the mature level of upper classmen, we had at least passed the growing pains of our freshman year.

Sports at Wakefield High, always supported with much zeal, had many outstanding sophomore participants. The football team ended the season with a tremendous win over Melrose on Thanksgiving Day. This placed us second in the Middlesex League. Among the varsity letter holders were sophomores Joe Melton and John Coyne.

The sophomore football squad had a victorious season with a 4-2 record. In their game against Melrose, always the most exciting, the Warriors had a memorable conquest of 50-0.

Terminating the season, the Wakefield High hockey team placed fourth in the Middlesex League. The team included four valuable sophomore skaters: Jimmy Brown, Paul Koulouris, Dennis Bisso, and Bobby Brodbine.

Excellence in ability, form, and team effort were quickly displayed by the Warrior hoopsters, Randy Brown, a promising sophomore, contributed much in the team’s reach for great heights. Under the direction of a new coach, Peter Saitta, the Wakefield High Basketball team once again qualified for the Tech Tourney.

Coached by Mr. John DiCommandrea, the cross country track team placed first in the Middlesex League. Several sophomores were also members of the indoor track team, coached by Mr. James Duff. Ken Doherty won the Most Valuable Award and Bob Hadley took the Most Improved Award. Directed by coaches “Whip” Halliday and James Duff, the outdoor track team compiled a number of outstanding achievements. The team won the outstanding team vote of 1966, the Item Road Race, the Belmont Relays, the Middlesex League championship, and the Class B title.

Soccer was introduced to Wakefield High by Coach Reen this year. Beginning as an intramural sport, soccer has gone on to greater dimensions in the following years.

There were also many social events during the year which were enjoyed by many sophomores. The various dances included the annual Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Student Council; the Cheerleaders’ Dance, the Majorettes’ Dance, and the regular canteens. The major dance undertaken by our class as a whole was the Sophomore Hop, Song of the Surf. The decorations were worked on diligently by the committee for several weeks to make the dance the success that it was. Larry Brown and Stephanie Godette were crowned king and queen, and all class members who attended have many unforgettable memories of our first class dance.

During our sophomore year, the Student Council sponsored the first Bermuda Day held at Wakefield High. This new idea in school activities proved a great success and was enjoyed by all who took part.

1965 brought computerization to Wakefield High School for the first year. Our program cards, report cards, absentee lists, and supplementaries were all handled by I.B.M. computers.

The music department of Wakefield High added a new activity to its agenda this year also. Through the cooperation of the music department of Swampscott, we established a band exchange program.

The singing groups of Wakefield High were extremely active. Talented members represented Wakefield in the particularly selective district and state concerts. Two sophomores included in this accomplishment were Paula Drago and Victor De Gruttola.

In the spring the Thespians gave a praiseworthy production of the Miracle Worker. Jimmy Theobald's excellent interpretation of a major role in the performance marked the beginning of a series of successful plays in which he and many other members of our class have been eminently outstanding.

The cheering tryouts began in May and many of the female members of the sophomore class could be seen practicing seemingly endless hours after school. After qualifying for the ballot and awaiting the verdict of the votes of the entire school, Janis Cardillo, Cindy Howard, Carol Lenners, Shelly Morrison, and Mary Sullivan became the junior cheerleaders for the coming year.

The American Field Service program was, as always, very successful. Age Dragstead was the exchange student from Denmark this year. In addition to Age, Wakefield hosted five girls from Chile who studied here during their summer vacation. The girls were sponsored by the American Youth Exchange Institute Program.

The class elections were one of the most enthusiastic events of our sophomore year. Candidates campaigned for several weeks, covering the walls with slogan posters. In the rally assembly, the demonstrations and speeches of our class members were executed with much spirit. We elected Dan Whittet, President; Bonnie Ramsdell, Vice-President; Barbara Giuffre, Secretary; and Steve Merrill, Treasurer.

Report cards were issued in June and school was closed. We were now numbered in the ranks of upperclassmen. Having learned much in our sophomore year, we now looked ahead to an even more profitable year at Wakefield High.

JUNIOR YEAR

We returned to Wakefield High School in the fall of 1966, and as we began to realize we were upperclassmen, we took our places as leaders in school activities. As juniors, we held important positions in the scholastic, athletic, and extra-curricular aspects of school life.

In all phases of sports, juniors enthusiastically participated; and those who did not actively take part were avid spectators at all sports events. In football, the Warriors played several games, such as the exciting one against Malden Catholic, which delighted the Wakefield fans. Although the team did not return from Melrose victorious on Thanksgiving Day, they had an impressive record of 6-1-2 for the '66 season.

The fall of '66 was also a memorable season for the soccer team. As their first year in the Middlesex league, they did not have a winning record; but the soccer team, including juniors Dennis MacPherson, Mark Jackson, and Dave Kellar, offered some stiff competition to other more established teams.

The basketball team did not fare so well in the '66-'67 season, as their losses outnumbered their victories; however, an especially promising junior, Randy Brown, helped Wakefield look forward to a more winning season in our senior year.

The Warriors had more success in hockey. They had the distinguished honor of being the only team to gain a victory against Melrose.

Wakefield had its own undefeated team during our junior year. Our track team, which consisted of several outstanding juniors, broke numerous records and not only took first place in the Middlesex league but also captured the state championship for Wakefield High.

The girls' athletic teams should not be omitted, since they were an important part of the sports year of '66-'67. In field hockey, basketball, and softball, with coach Brenda DiPanfilo, the girls' teams gained many impressive victories.

Our junior year was also a time of artistic achievement. In the field of music, the members of the choral groups entertained large audiences of admirers at their Winter and Spring Concerts. In addition, many members participated in district and state choruses. The band not only gave a number of exceptional performances in concert, but also helped rally the football team on to victory. The accomplishments of the orchestra illustrated the high calibre of the musical program at Wakefield. The summer after our junior year was enhanced, for many members of the Madrigal singers, by a trip to Europe with Miss Nadon. For three and one-half weeks they performed in several European cities while thoroughly enjoying themselves on, what was for most of them, their first trip abroad.

The juniors displayed their dramatic talent in the Annual Thespians Production. Among our classmates who gave superb performances in The Crucible were David McCarthy, Faith Bach, Jim Theobald, and Marie Feudo.

Besides music and drama, school dances provided us with entertainment during '66-'67. The Cheerleaders' and Majorettes' dances, the Student Council's Winter Carnival, and several canteens increased the excitement of the social aspect of the year; however, the Junior Prom, "Twilight," was the most important dance for us as juniors. Keven Danell and Barbara Mirlocca were chosen king and queen in the atmosphere of a park at twilight.

As juniors, the class of '68 made a strong showing academically. The math team, which consisted of many high scoring juniors, enjoyed a successful year and finished fourth in the Massachusetts Mathematics League.

In the field of science, several juniors including Annis Buckley, Ernie Yamartino, Victor DeGruttola, and Winston Eaton, took top prizes in the Annual Science Fair. Two more of our classmates, Dave Troughton and Sue Grilk, wrote essays which won them trips to the United Nations during the summer previous to our junior year. In addition, twenty-two juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society in the spring of '67, and Ernie Yamartino was elected its new president.

The American Field Service Program had again supplied Wakefield High with the opportunity to increase its knowledge and understanding of foreign countries by sending Brenda Payne, a Rhodesian student, to spend the year with a Wakefield family. We were also proud of two of our own classmates who were chosen to participate in the AFS program. Reid Willis was chosen to spend the summer in Germany, and Steve Studer was to live with a Belgian family for his senior year.

When colorful campaign posters began to adorn the walls of WHS, we knew that it was election time again and that our junior year was nearing its end. The results of these elections showed that Larry Brown had been elected president; Jackie Rockel, Vice-president; Barbara Giuffre, secretary; Barry Moore, treasurer.

As we left Wakefield High for the last time that year, we felt that we could be proud of the many accomplishments of our junior year; however, we expected to return in the fall with even greater aspirations for success as seniors.

SENIOR YEAR

As we again entered the corridors of Wakefield High School and scampered from room to room, we looked forward to a wonderfully prosperous senior year. With class officers like Lawrence Brown (President), Jackie Rockel (Vice-President), Barbara Giuffre (Secretary), and Barry Moore (Treasurer), and a class of unusually high potential, we knew we wouldn't be disappointed.

Wakefield was honored this year to have students Ann Campbell, Rafael Urquieta, and Zerrin Maner from Australia, Chile, and Turkey, respectively. They were three of the friendliest and most exciting foreign exchange students Wakefield had ever had. Participating in all activities and special events, the students easily blended in with the student body and the town of Wakefield.

After a summer in Germany, our own foreign exchange student, Reid Willis, showed slides and gave interesting talks on the wonderful people and places she saw. Many students received cards and letters from Steven Studer, also, who spent his entire year in Belgium. He was evidently having the time of his life!

Back here in Wakefield the gridders led by co-captains Steve Roberto and John Coyne had their ups and downs. One of their downs included the Thanksgiving Day football game played in a torrential rain which drove all but the enthusiastic fans and Cheerleaders to their hot turkey dinners. The Cheerleaders, sparked by friendly Miss Carol Lenner, led the "Victory Cry" with a loyal student body behind the verse. Betsy Crocker marched the diligent Majorettes with vigor and accomplishment for all of Melrose to see.

Three seniors were recipients of various awards throughout the year. Paul Rutter received the Jewish Brotherhood Award; Janis Cardillo, the Good Citizenship Award; and Peter Mathison represented Wakefield at Student Government Day in Boston.

Dan Beasley and Steven Whicher saw to it that the Cross Country team, coached by Mr. DiComandrea, continued its reign over the Middlesex League.

The fairer sex of W.H.S. apparently enjoys the thrill of sports as much as the boys. Led by co-captains Judy Henshaw and Brenda Cole, the girls' field hockey team had their best season to date.

The soccer team, coached by Dick Kelley and led by co-captains Paul Rutter and Dennis MacPherson, finished its season with a 7-3-3 record. In its second year of varsity competition, soccer finally began to be recognized as a major fall sport.

After inducting twenty more members, the National Honor Society of Wakefield High School and the entire student body beamed with pride and joy. Intelligence and ambition truly prevailed in the senior class!

In December, the Class of 1968 proudly presented "The Male Animal," under the direction of Mrs. Bach. The play, which was a tremendous success, starred David McCarthy, Edward Atwater, and Marji Hillson.

Winter roared in with numerous excuses for "no school" announcements and cancellations. November through February were busy months for an industrious senior class preparing for college, writing senior themes, and faithfully completing piles of homework.

Randy Brown and Paul Rutter ran the basketball team up and down the court for their tireless and optimistic coach, Mr. DellaSanta, to defeat Melrose and Lexington in two of the most exciting games of the year. The Middlesex League again presented tough competition as the W.H.S. basketball team finished in good standing.

The hockey team also faced a tough season. With spark and fire from every player, they beat many of the best teams in the state. Their coach, Mr. Kirk, and a loyal student body also helped them have a winning season.

Mr. Duff and his fleet-footed indoor track team enjoyed victory after victory with record breakers Bob Hadley, Ken Doherty, Dan Beasley, and Alex Struzziero. Their final victory over Melrose was their greatest win of the season.

As the weather began to warm and the sun to shine, so did the spring sports. Mr. Duff's track team was successful as were the baseball, golf, and tennis teams.

Excitement began to build as we prepared for the traditional graduation events. The Senior Breakfast, Class Day, and Senior Prom were all great events we shall hold in our memories for some time to come. The Senior Prom, for the first time at Wakefield High School, was not held in the gym, but at Montvale Plaza in Stoneham. It proved to be a very interesting and different Senior Prom.

When June finally appeared on the calendar, everyone was excited about summer and the college they would attend in the fall. Although many of us seemed to feel relief in leaving, we knew our hearts would betray our true feelings. We had enjoyed the past four years and were grateful to all of our teachers and advisors. We could walk away from Wakefield High School knowing we had not stopped, discouraged half way, but had proceeded on with even greater ambition. We will now strive for perfection as "we emerge upon a newer, mightier world."
